Media and content consumption patterns have undergone a dramatic evolution with the explosion of on-demand streaming services and over-the-top (OTT) platforms. The global lockdown accelerated their tremendous growth, and viewers are engaging with various devices and sources more than ever before. However, ad sales have been impacted as other channels and technologies fight for these dollars.

As media and entertainment companies face the challenges and opportunities that come with this rapid development and increasing demand, a deep understanding of consumers and prospects is key to maintaining business agility and monetizing their business models.

To learn what you need about your consumers to transform their entertainment experiences, start with the data you are collecting today, then look at enriching it with high-quality third-party data.

Mobilewalla is a leader in consumer intelligence solutions, combining the industry’s most robust data set with deep artificial intelligence expertise to help organizations better understand, model and predict customer behavior.
